

Department of Pharmacology

2023 Elaine Sanders-Bush Lecture

Marsel Mesulam, MD

Chief of Behavioral Neurology in the Department of Neurology

Ruth Dunbar Davee Professor of Neuroscience

Professor of Neurology and Weinberg College of Arts and Sciences

Northwestern University

“Temporal Pole of the Human Brain”

Once neglected as an area of dubious relevance to neurology, the temporal pole of the human brain has become the target of intensive research on the synaptic neuroanatomy of language and the molecular basis of selective vulnerability in frontotemporal lobar degenerations. Emerging insights related to these topics will be reviewed.

Tuesday, May 2nd, 2023

4:00 PM

214 Light Hall

Sponsored by the Elaine Sanders-Bush Lectureship Fund