

Education Type: CJE

Curriculum: Property Valuation: Equitable v. Actual Division of Real Property in Divorce Cases

Faculty: Kelly L. Murray, J.D.

Sponsor: Indiana Judicial Center

Date: September 18, 2013

Location: Grand Wayne Convention Center, Fort Wayne, Indiana

Post event judges' comments:

- Session topic really makes you think!
- Interesting, innovative; raises issue that should be addressed; although irritating to some who see no need to question their own practices
- Good information for attorneys or mediators but concerned with speaker's suggestion this is something a judicial officers needs to inquire about and investigate
- Good speaker! Makes you think about the real estate issues
- Interesting material. Practical applications?
- The presentation was more oriented towards attorneys and how they should practice law on behalf of clients in dissolutions. I think it didn't benefit judicial officers other than to make us aware of the lack of protection in agreements regarding distribution of marital residence
- Speaker was good, but could use a better understanding of what judges can and cannot do in a dissolution.
- Great presenter and materials She handled some unfounded resistance very well