Create an Honor Code Quiz

An Honor Code Quiz is a quick one-question quiz where students can indicate they will adhere to the honor code during online assessments. You might require this at the beginning of the semester, or you might require it before every online assessment. This guide shows you how to create a one-question quiz that is not linked to the gradebook. It also outlines how you can make the quiz mandatory before a student starts the actual test or exam.

- Step One: Create a one-question Honor Code Quiz
- Step Two: Create a Conditional Release, requiring students to take the Honor Code quiz before a test/exam
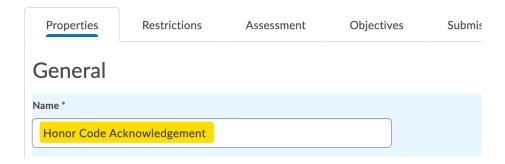

Here is an example of how this would look in Brightspace upon completion:

Step One: Create a One-Question Honor Code Quiz

1. Go to the Quizzes area under Activities & Assessments tab. Click on New Quiz and give it a title. We suggest: Honor Code Acknowledgement.

4. After saving your question, you'll come back to your Edit Quiz page. You should see your question displayed now, and set to True/False and 1 point. Enter your description that students will see before this quiz begins. Be sure to select On so that the description is visible.

5. Go to the Assessment tab. Check the box for "Allow attempt to be set as graded immediately upon completion". Do not link to a Grade Item.

6. Designate how many attempts the students are allowed - we suggest two. Indicate that the highest attempt will be used. Click Save and Close when you are finished.

Create a Conditional Release

Once you have both the Honor Code quiz and your actual quiz created, you can create a Conditional Release. This requires students to take the Honor Code quiz first in order to allow access the actual quiz.
1. Go in to edit your quiz. Select the Restrictions tab, find the Release Conditions heading and click Create and Attach.
