The Symbols and Regalia

The visual symbols of Vanderbilt University communicate our rich history and our vibrant future. The oak tree is a traditional symbol for education as well as for strength and longevity. The stylized oak leaf and acorn in the Vanderbilt logo were inspired by motifs from the Vanderbilt family coat of arms. The predominant colors in the Vanderbilt coat of arms are black and gold. The initial “V” has been used frequently throughout the years as an architectural detail on campus buildings. The Vanderbilt University wordmark incorporates two typefaces, graphically linking old and new, our history and our future.

The current chair of the Faculty Senate carries the mace, an ancient sign of authority. It is displayed on the front of the podium as the symbol of the university’s authority to confer degrees. Symbolic images that decorate the gilded metal of the mace include VU monograms, embattled shields, oak leaves and acorns, irises and magnolias.

The Chancellor’s insignia of office is a silver and gilt collar that displays several emblems of the university. The parallel chains of sterling silver are surmounted by alternating Vanderbilt shields and modified Founder’s Medals, from which hangs a medallion with an impression of the seal of the university. The decagonal silver frame of the medallion symbolizes the ten schools.

Trustees of the university wear black gowns distinguished by gold piping on the velvet bars of the sleeves. The design of the academic regalia and the colors worn are significant. Undergraduates—those receiving bachelor’s degrees—wear tassels signifying the degree they have earned: golden yellow for science, pink for music, and orange for engineering. By tradition, the bachelor of arts degree tassels are black.

The distinguishing mark of the gown is the sleeve: bachelor—a long, pointed sleeve; master—an oblong sleeve open at the wrist; doctor—open, pointed sleeves lined with dark blue satin to signify the Ph.D. Vanderbilt’s custom gown for those receiving the doctor of philosophy has antique gold front and back panels and an embroidered “V” on the gown’s yoke. Vanderbilt doctoral candidates wear eight-sided velvet tams with gold tassels.

The velvet edging of the doctoral hoods signifies whether the degree is J.D., M.D., Ed.D. or Ph.D.—purple for law, green for medicine, light blue for education, and dark blue for the doctor of philosophy, which may be earned in a number of disciplines. Masters’ hoods are edged with white for arts, golden yellow for science, salmon pink for public health, scarlet for theology, light blue for education, orange for engineering, apricot for nursing, and light brown for business. All hoods are lined with silk in colors signifying the institution granting the degree. Vanderbilt hoods are lined in gold and bear a black chevron.

The Banner Bearers

Each banner, with a field in the appropriate academic color, is decorated with the Vanderbilt logo. In recognition of Peabody’s history, a Peabody Centennial Medal in a round walnut frame is mounted above the banner. Banner bearers this year are:

Neal Patrick Cotter for the College of Arts and Science

Rachel Danielle Menscher for the Blair School of Music

Nithin Senthur Kumar for the School of Engineering

THE Nichols- Chancellor's MEDAL

The Nichols–Chancellor’s Medal is one of the university’s highest honors and is awarded to individuals who define the 21st century and exemplify the best qualities of the human spirit. It was established by Vanderbilt Law School graduate Edward C. Nichols, Jr., and his wife, Janice, in memory of Edward Carmack Nichols and Lucile Hamby Nichols. The medal is presented at Vanderbilt’s Senior Class Day and carries a cash prize.

The 2014 Nichols–Chancellor’s Medal is presented to Regina M. Benjamin, who completed her four-year term in 2013 as the 18th surgeon general of the United States. As America’s doctor, she provided the public with information on how to improve their health and the health of the nation and oversaw the operational command of 6,500 uniformed public health officers. Additionally, she served as chair of the National Prevention Council—17 cabinet-level federal agencies that developed the National Prevention Strategy, a road map for the nation’s health.

Dr. Benjamin was the United States recipient of the Nelson Mandela Award for Health and Human Rights and received the National Caring Award, inspired by Mother Teresa. Pope Benedict XVI recognized her with the Papal honor Pro Ecclesia et Pontifice. The NAACP has honored her with its Chairman’s Award, and she also has received a MacArthur Fellowship.

THE FOUNDER'S MEDAL RECIPIENTS

Kristin Lee Bater, from Villanova, Pennsylvania, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the College of Arts and Science. She is graduating with a bachelor of arts.

A neuroscience major, Kristin was elected to Phi Beta Kappa as a junior. Early courses in natural sciences piqued her interest in intellectual and developmental disabilities. An opportunity to work in Professor Randy Blakely's research laboratory solidified her interest in research as a route to better patient care for those with neurocognitive disabilities. Kristin's work with Professor Blakely led her in 2013 to a summer conference in Cortona, Italy, where she was the only undergraduate to present her research. In addition to her academic work, Kristin helped create a partnership between Best Buddies Nashville and Vanderbilt's Momentum Dance Company, so that persons with disabilities could participate in dance, and she traveled on a medical mission trip to Honduras with Alpha Epsilon Delta (the pre-health honor society). Kristin will attend Johns Hopkins School of Medicine in fall 2014.

Mae Louise Mosley, from Henderson, Kentucky, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the Blair School of Music. She is graduating with a bachelor of music.

Mae has garnered many honors and awards during her undergraduate career: She won the Theodore Presser Award for scholarship, made the Dean's List every semester, and was elected to the Pi Kappa Lambda musical honor society. A member of the Vanderbilt Orchestra for three years, and the Wind Ensemble and Spirit of Gold Marching Band for four, she coordinated an entire marching band show as part of the Teaching Marching Band seminar. She was the first teacher education in music student to study abroad (in Sydney, Australia). After graduation, Mae will continue in the five-year Blair/Peabody teacher education program, planning to receive her master's degree in education and teacher licensure in May 2015.

Kasey Rebecca Hill, from Huntsville, Alabama, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the School of Engineering. She is graduating with a bachelor of engineering.

A Cornelius Vanderbilt Scholar, Kasey has been elected to Tau Beta Pi, Eta Kappa Nu, and Mortar Board, and is a participant in the Accelerated Master's Program in Electrical Engineering. Kasey began undergraduate research on radiation-hardened circuit design in her junior year and worked full time during summer 2013 in the Vanderbilt Engineering Summer Research Program, designing, building, and testing a radiation-hardened, temperature-change-resistant voltage reference circuit. She also interned at Science Applications International Corporation (SAIC) for two summers, working on software testing for a military communications system. She participated in Vanderbilt Student Volunteers for Science (VSVS) for all eight semesters as an undergraduate. Kasey expects to receive her master's degree in electrical engineering in August 2014 and then work for Raytheon Integrated Defense Systems in Huntsville on advanced radar systems testing and analysis.

Amanda Lange Palmer, from Birmingham, Michigan, is this year's Founder's Medalist for Peabody College of Education and Human Development. She is graduating with a bachelor of science.

A Cornelius Vanderbilt Scholar and Peabody Scholar, Amanda double majored in cognitive studies and child development, maintaining a 4.0 GPA. Her honors include membership in Mortar Board, Psi Chi, Order of Omega, Alpha Lambda Delta, and Phi Eta Sigma honor societies. Amanda's research with professors at Vanderbilt University and the University of Washington has strongly affected her career path. Amanda has worked many hours with children who have been diagnosed with autism spectrum disorder. Her time working with the children and seeing first-hand how her time with them directly affected their success has been powerful in influencing Amanda's desire to work directly with children and families affected by autism spectrum disorder. Amanda will begin the Master's in Autism and Developmental Disabilities program at the University of Texas, Austin, in fall 2014.

Susannah Marie Morris, from Atlanta, Georgia, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the Divinity School. She is graduating with a master of theological studies.

Susannah earned her bachelor of arts in religion at Furman University, where she received the General Excellence Award, the Religion Scholarly Achievement Award, and the Poverty Studies Award and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. She fell in love with ancient Greek and Hebrew and participated in archaeological expeditions at the ancient site of Jezreel in Israel. She says that the opportunity to collaborate in the vision of As One Fellowship, a new, multi-ethnic worshipping community in Nashville, supported by the Presbyterian Church (USA), "awakened my imagination to the potential of churches to work for reconciliation as a crucial component of their ministry." The recipient of a University Graduate Fellowship, Susannah will begin doctoral study in Hebrew Bible (with a concentration in theology and practice) at Vanderbilt in fall 2014.

Peter Kevin Attwater, from Kernersville, North Carolina, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the Owen Graduate School of Management. He is graduating with a master of business administration.

Peter's interests in health care and business started in his undergraduate experience at the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill, where he earned a bachelor of science in business administration with a second major in psychology. At Owen, Peter has earned a specialization in health care with concentrations in strategy and operations. He was awarded an E. Bronson Ingram Scholarship, earned the Bruce D. Henderson Scholarship for Academic Achievement, and was elected to the honor society Beta Gamma Sigma. Peter has served as president of the Vanderbilt Health Care Club, a board member of the Nashville Health Care Council's Leadership Health Care Program, an Owen Peer Coach, and an Owen Leadership Development Program Guide. After graduation, Peter and his wife, Erica, will move to Atlanta, Georgia, where Peter will join Deloitte Consulting's Strategy and Operations practice, focusing on health care.

William Thomas Marks, from Charlotte, North Carolina, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the Law School. He is graduating with a doctor of jurisprudence.

Clerking at the Department of Justice while he was earning his bachelor of arts at Georgetown University set Will on the course that led to his successful career at Vanderbilt Law School. Among his many awards and accomplishments at Vanderbilt, Will received the Archie B. Martin Memorial Award for the highest GPA for the first year, was on the Dean's List for all semesters, received numerous Scholastic Excellence Awards, was a Thomas R. McCoy Scholar, received the Myron Penn Laughlin Note Award (Law Review), and was Editor-in-Chief of the Vanderbilt Law Review. After graduation, he will clerk for the Honorable Jeffrey S. Sutton, U.S. Court of Appeals for the 6th Circuit, in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Debra Perrone, from Fair Lawn, New Jersey, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the Graduate School. She is graduating with a doctor of philosophy in environmental engineering.

A magna cum laude graduate of Lafayette College, Debra has received many honors and awards including election to Tau Beta Pi (2007) and numerous fellowships and grants. During Debra's second year at Lafayette College, she joined Engineers Without Borders (EWB). Debra and her peers worked on water, sanitation, and micro-finance projects in rural Honduras and won an EPA People, Prosperity, and the Planet (P3) Grant ($75,000) for their innovative approach to working in developing countries and integrating engineering and physical science with social science and economics. Her experience with EWB changed her interest from traditional civil engineering to interdisciplinary studies focused around water resources. Debra has accepted a position as a post-doctoral scholar with the Woods Institute at Stanford University.

Cecilia Kennedy Page, from Lexington, Kentucky, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the School of Nursing. She is graduating with a doctor of nursing practice.

Cecilia entered Vanderbilt as an undergraduate in 1974, graduated with a bachelor of science in nursing, and began her career focused on bedside nursing in maternal-infant health. She became the chief nursing officer of a 380-bed hospital and started to see how systems and informatics were crucial in health care delivery. Her doctoral scholarly project was the development and implementation of a usability checklist in the UK (University of Kentucky) HealthCare electronic medical records; it resulted in a 45 percent decrease in nursing documentation time and a 24 percent increase in nursing satisfaction. The doctor of nursing practice has helped her dramatically by allowing Cecilia to "apply knowledge to practice improvements" at a time when health care is embarking on the largest transformation in the profession's history. Cecilia is currently the interim chief information officer for UK HealthCare.

Sarah Elizabeth Scott, from Bloomington, Indiana, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the School of Medicine. She is graduating with a doctor of medicine.

Sarah was involved in the student-run Shade Tree Clinic throughout medical school, serving multiple roles including the director of pharmacy, clinic coordinator, and student volunteer. Her varied experiences at Shade Tree impressed upon her the importance of being an advocate for her future patients and serving the underinsured in some capacity. Sarah's other wide-ranging interests in medical school included co-chairing multiple school-wide events, serving as a student adviser for her advisory college, and tutoring underclassmen. Additionally, she helped organize a team of twelve classmates to run in the Ragnar Relay—a 200-mile relay race from Chattanooga to Nashville. She is a member of the Alpha Omega Alpha honor society. Sarah will continue her training in the combined Internal Medicine and Pediatrics residency program at Vanderbilt beginning in July.

Alma Mater

*On the city's western border, reared against the sky,
Proudly stands our Alma Mater as the years roll by.
Forward! ever be thy watchword, conquer and prevail.
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater, Vanderbilt, All Hail!*

*Cherished by thy sons and daughters, memories sweet shall throng
'Round our hearts, O Alma Mater, as we sing our song.
Forward! ever be thy watchword, conquer and prevail.
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater, Vanderbilt, All Hail!*

—ROBERT F. VAUGHAN, 1907
