The Symbols and Regalia

The visual symbols of Vanderbilt University communicate our rich history and our vibrant future. The oak tree is a traditional symbol for education as well as for strength and longevity. The stylized oak leaf and acorn in the Vanderbilt logo were inspired by motifs from the Vanderbilt family coat of arms. The predominant colors in the Vanderbilt coat of arms are black and gold. The initial “V” has been used frequently throughout the years as an architectural detail on campus buildings. The Vanderbilt University wordmark incorporates two typefaces, graphically linking old and new, our history and our future.

The current chair of the Faculty Senate carries the mace, an ancient sign of authority. It is displayed on the front of the podium as the symbol of the university’s authority to confer degrees. Symbolic images that decorate the gilded metal of the mace include VU monograms, embattled shields, oak leaves and acorns, irises and magnolias.

The chancellor’s insignia of office is a silver and gilt collar that displays several emblems of the university. The parallel chains of sterling silver are surmounted by alternating Vanderbilt shields and modified Founder’s Medals, from which hangs a medallion with an impression of the seal of the university. The decagonal silver frame of the medallion symbolizes the ten schools.

Trustees of the university wear black gowns distinguished by gold piping on the velvet bars of the sleeves. The design of the academic regalia and the colors worn are significant. Undergraduates—those receiving bachelor’s degrees—wear tassels signifying the degree they have earned: golden yellow for science, pink for music, and orange for engineering. By tradition, the bachelor of arts degree tassels are black.

The distinguishing mark of the gown is the sleeve: bachelor—a long, pointed sleeve; master—an oblong sleeve open at the wrist; doctor—open, pointed sleeves lined with dark blue satin to signify the Ph.D. Vanderbilt’s custom gown for those receiving the doctor of philosophy has antique gold front and back panels and an embroidered “V” on the gown’s yoke. Vanderbilt doctoral candidates wear eight-sided velvet tams with gold tassels.

The velvet edging of the doctoral hoods signifies whether the degree is J.D., M.D., Ed.D., or Ph.D.—purple for law, green for medicine, light blue for education, and dark blue for the doctor of philosophy, which may be earned in a number of disciplines. Masters’ hoods are edged with white for arts, golden yellow for science, salmon pink for public health, scarlet for theology, light blue for education, orange for engineering, apricot for nursing, and light brown for business. All hoods are lined with silk in colors signifying the institution granting the degree. Vanderbilt hoods are lined in gold and bear a black chevron.

The Banner Bearers

Each banner, with a field in the appropriate academic color, is decorated with the Vanderbilt logo. In recognition of Peabody’s history, a Peabody Centennial Medal in a round walnut frame is mounted above the banner. Banner bearers this year are:

THE Nichols- Chancellor's MEDAL

The Nichols–Chancellor’s Medal is one of the university’s highest honors and is awarded to individuals who define the 21st century and exemplify the best qualities of the human spirit. It was established by Vanderbilt Law School graduate Edward C. Nichols, Jr., and his wife, Janice, in memory of Edward Carmack Nichols and Lucile Hamby Nichols. The medal is presented at Vanderbilt’s Senior Class Day and also carries a monetary award.

The 2016 Nichols–Chancellor’s Medal is presented to journalist Soledad O’ Brien who has brought wider exposure to some of the most important issues and stories in the world through her critically acclaimed documentaries, empowering initiatives, and coverage of breaking news. Her documentary series Black in America and Latino in America, which won the distinguished Cine Award, are among CNN’s most successful domestic and international franchises. Under the aegis of Starfish Media Group, a production and distribution company she launched in 2013, she uncovers and produces stories that take a challenging look at the often divisive issues of race, class, wealth, poverty, and opportunity. O’Brien, who has earned numerous Emmy Awards, is also a correspondent for HBO’s Real Sports with Bryant Gumbel.

THE FOUNDER'S MEDAL RECIPIENTS

Leslie Katherine Bruce, from Belton, Missouri, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the College of Arts and Science. She is graduating with a bachelor of arts.

Leslie believes in "ubuntu," an African philosophy emphasizing the interconnectedness of humanity, and she works to foster conversations among members of diverse groups. As a 2015 Humanity in Action Fellow working with students from U.S. and European universities, Leslie spoke with Muslim activists about "the struggle to combat the rise of Islamophobia in France, while upholding the foundational French principle of secularism." She was a White House communications intern, and at Vanderbilt she served on the Vanderbilt Speakers Committee, helping to organize the Impact Symposium. After graduating Phi Beta Kappa with a major in political science and minors in economics and history, Leslie will serve as assistant to Judge Sri Srinivasan on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit, an auspicious next step toward her ultimate goal of studying First Amendment law and becoming a professor of constitutional law and legal history.

Amy Victoria Thompson, from Springfield, Tennessee, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the Blair School of Music. She is graduating with a bachelor of music in harp performance and a concentration in composition.

A Cornelius Vanderbilt Scholar, Amy is a member of Pi Kappa Lambda, the national music honor society, and president of the Blair Composition Forum. She began her studies at Blair in the precollege program and was awarded the College Preparatory Certificate. During her collegiate career, Amy studied at the summer Young Artists' Harp Seminar, the IES summer music history and performance program in Vienna, the EAMA summer composition and theory program at La Schola Cantorum in Paris, and the Royal Academy of Music in London. In 2015, Amy was the Young Composer's Forum winner at the Tennessee Valley Music Festival. Passionate about sharing music with others, Amy has been a volunteer performer for countless special events on and off campus and a volunteer teacher at the W. O. Smith Music School. After graduation, Amy will pursue her master's degree in harp performance at McGill University in Montreal, Canada.

Julie Anne Schnur, from Saint Louis, Missouri, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the School of Engineering. She is graduating with a bachelor of engineering in biomedical engineering.

Julie credits the School of Engineering with helping her "build the technical background, creativity, and communication skills to succeed." As a member of Vanderbilt's Design for America studio, which works to implement social change through the design process, she worked on projects ranging from increasing sustainability on campus to providing better access to transportation for Nashville's homeless population.

She also led a Design for America project aimed at decreasing ambient noise in hospitals to improve patient comfort. She was a member of Vanderbilt Student Volunteers for Science and says that "watching middle schoolers get as excited about science experiments as I am brought me a lot of joy." In the lab, Julie spent the past three years researching ways to reduce the number of bone fractures in at-risk populations by improving risk assessment tools and identifying determinants of bone toughness. That experience has inspired her to pursue a career in medical device research and development.

Felicia Hanitio, from Singapore, is this year's Founder's Medalist for Peabody College and is graduating with a bachelor of science in child development and human & organizational development.

Felicia received a four-year Peabody Dean's Achievement scholarship and was elected to Omicron Delta Kappa, the national leadership honor society. She seeks to nurture diverse, caring, and inclusive relationships between students through her roles as a prospective international student recruiter on behalf of the Admissions office, leader in an Asian American Christian student fellowship, Running Club practice captain, dancer in the Asian New Year Festival and Diwali showcases, and Alternative Spring Break volunteer. A Peabody Scholars summer stipend allowed Felicia to spend two months with Children for Change Cambodia, co-piloting a social action program for youth at risk of human trafficking and economic marginalization. Her honors thesis in HOD, "A Model to Predict the Emergence of Community Psychology and Community Development in 91 Countries," examines links between informal grassroots social action processes and the emergence of formalized, community-based research disciplines. After graduation, Felicia will explore positions with a focus on Southeast Asian development and future graduate studies in international development.

Samantha Tashman McGlothlin, from Hoover, Alabama, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the Divinity School. She is graduating with a master of divinity.

Samantha attended the Divinity School as a Turner Scholar, an honor bestowed upon students who demonstrate ministerial leadership skills in the United Methodist Church. She proved her leadership abilities by serving as chair of the university's Methodist Student Association, as a ministry intern at Providence United Methodist Church, and as a chaplain at youth camps. Samantha says of her time at the Divinity School, "My hope is that we have been one another's teachers—that we have all been challenged and transformed by our collective work." Because of her work within the Divinity School community "of bright, compassionate, authentic people seeking to love God and others fully," Samantha leaves Vanderbilt "committed to practicing theology in relation to human suffering and to the embodied experiences of all people." She will begin this practice in her new role as associate pastor for the congregation at Belle Meade United Methodist Church in Nashville.

THE FOUNDER'S MEDAL RECIPIENTS

Andrew T. Niemeier, from Evansville, Indiana, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the Owen Graduate School of Management and is graduating with a master of business administration.

Andy received numerous academic honors at Owen. He received the E. Bronson Ingram Scholarship, was named a Dean's Scholar, and received the Bruce D. Henderson Award for Academic Achievement. He was recently inducted into Beta Gamma Sigma, the International Honor Society for Business students. Andy graduates with concentrations in human and organizational performance and strategy. Andy volunteered for Big Brothers/Big Sisters, United Way, and Youth Baseball. He was also a teaching assistant for five foundation courses at Owen: Managerial Finance, Statistics, Marketing, Strategy, and Business in a World Economy. After graduation, Andy, his wife, Elyse, and son, Rowan, will head to Indiana to help grow his brother's business, Azzip Pizza, which has four locations in Indiana and Illinois, and a fifth under construction in Kentucky.

Lauren Messonnier Meyers, from Lafayette, Louisiana, is this year's Founder's Medalist from the Law School. She is graduating with a doctor of jurisprudence.

Studying abroad as an undergraduate provided Lauren with an international perspective on human struggles. What she learned about human trafficking and slavery elicited her desire to become a lawyer. Lauren excelled in her legal studies. She was the recipient of the Robert F. Jackson Memorial Prize for the highest scholastic average after two years of law school, placed on the Dean's List all semesters, won multiple Vanderbilt Scholastic Excellence Awards for the highest grade in the class, was a Moot Court quarter finalist and served on the Moot Court Board, and was Notes Editor for the Vanderbilt Law Review. After graduation, Lauren will begin practice as an associate at the law firm of Vinson & Elkins in Dallas, Texas.

Andrew Joseph Hines, from Lake Charles, Louisiana, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the Graduate School. He is graduating with a doctor of philosophy in English.

Andy was launched on his academic and professional path when "a set of inspiring teachers and mentors raised a number of questions about the representation of history and the world." His research has since investigated "the public and cultural pertinence of the interpretation of literature in the classroom. Ultimately, teaching students to consider literature as an integral part of conversations about sociopolitical theory and practice provides an argument for the importance and the impact of the humanities in social and political life." Andy has been awarded numerous prizes for his research and teaching including the Outstanding Graduate Student Teaching Award and the Robert Manson Myers Dissertation Award. Parts of his dissertation, which chronicles how black writers in the mid-twentieth century contested New Critical practice, have been published in Public Books and Criticism. Since receiving his degree in August, Andy has been a lecturer in the Department of English at Vanderbilt.

Jessica Nicole Walker, from Brentwood, Tennessee, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the School of Nursing. She is graduating with a master of science in nursing in the Psychiatric-Mental Health Nurse Practitioner program.

Jessica discovered a passion for research while excelling as student, volunteer, and scholar. She received the American Psychiatric Nurses Association Board of Directors Student Scholarship and presented research at the APNA annual conference. Jessica served as president of the National Alliance on Mental Illness (Vanderbilt) and volunteered at Renewal House, Room in the Inn, and NAMI (Davidson County). Certified as a Psychiatric-Mental Health Nurse Practitioner—Across the Lifespan (PMHNP-BC) in 2015, Jessica provides diagnosis, therapy, and medication management for mentally ill patients who are homeless. She is currently enrolled in the Doctor of Nursing Practice program at Vanderbilt University School of Nursing, where she is pursuing her interest in evidence-based practice.

Mary Ellen Irene Koran, from Annapolis, Maryland, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the School of Medicine. She is graduating with a doctor of medicine and a doctor of philosophy.

Mary Ellen began swimming competitively at age 7, an early indication of her discipline, dedication, and work ethic. When she was in college, her mother was diagnosed with Parkinson's Disease. The lack of definitive treatment for the disease drove Mary Ellen to apply to M.D./Ph.D. programs. She entered the Medical Scientist Training Program at Vanderbilt in 2009. She completed her graduate work a year early and then applied her skills in a postdoctoral project focusing on large-scale computation of heritability measures. Mary Ellen has published six first-author papers and six second-author papers and was chosen as one of two students to give a Flexner Deans' Lecture. She was president of the American Medical Student Association, inducted into Alpha Omega Alpha medical honor society in her third year of study, and active on the Student Advisory Committee for the M.D./Ph.D. program. Mary Ellen and her husband, Cody Goodwin, Ph.D., will move to Stanford University for her radiology residency after she completes her internship in medicine at Saint Thomas in Nashville.

Alma Mater

*On the city's western border, reared against the sky,
Proudly stands our Alma Mater as the years roll by.
Forward! ever be thy watchword, conquer and prevail.
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater, Vanderbilt, All Hail!*

*Cherished by thy sons and daughters, memories sweet shall throng
'Round our hearts, O Alma Mater, as we sing our song.
Forward! ever be thy watchword, conquer and prevail.
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater, Vanderbilt, All Hail!*

—ROBERT F. VAUGHAN, 1907

The medallion on the cover of this program is the Official Seal of
