Owen Graduate School of Management

2020-2021 Academic Calendar

Vanderbilt is guided by two commitments—offering an excellent education to each and every Vanderbilt student and providing to the best extent possible for the health and well-being of everyone in our campus community. Our goal is to resume on-campus, in-person teaching as soon as possible, based on public health status and safety protocols.

We anticipate having a final academic schedule available by July 2020. While we don't have our detailed academic schedule ready at this time, we can provide the following information:

- Orientation (including the two-day International Summer Business Program) will begin and run early August.
- Mod 1 classes start on August 17, 2020.
