

STUDY PORTUGUESE THIS SUMMER IN BRAZIL WITH A FLAS FELLOWSHIP!

Vanderbilt's Center for Latin American, Caribbean, and Latinx Studies offers Foreign Language and Area Studies fellowships for the study of Portuguese and co-hosts the Summer in Brazil in São Paulo with Tulane University.

Dates for 2025: June 7-July 19.

Summer FLAS Fellowships include $5000 in tuition support and a $3500 stipend.

Eligibility

Students must be:

- Citizens, nationals, or permanent residents of the US
 - Undergraduates must be at the intermediate level of language proficiency or above
 - Graduate students must be at the intermediate level of language proficiency or above to study in Brazil

We also offer Academic Year fellowships for undergraduate and graduate students:

Undergraduate AY FLAS Fellowships include $10,000 in tuition support and a $5000 AY stipend.

Eligibility for undergraduates:

- Must be enrolled in a Portuguese language course for both Fall and Spring semesters
- Must be enrolled in a course focused on Latin America for both Fall and Spring semesters
- Must be at the intermediate level of language proficiency or above
- Must be a US citizen

Graduate AY FLAS Fellowships include $18,000 in tuition support and a $20,000 AY stipend.

Eligibility for graduate students:

- Must be enrolled in a Portuguese language course for both Fall and Spring semesters
- Must be enrolled in a course focused on Latin America for both Fall and Spring semesters
- Must be a US citizen

Applications for Summer 2025 and AY 2025-2026 are due February 1:

<https://redcap.vanderbilt.edu/surveys/?s=YLYDC9JHPR4CKKKX>

Questions? Contact CLACX@vanderbilt.edu

