

AAAS Workshop: Science Communication & Engagement with Religious Publics

This workshop is for scientists seeking to expand or improve their science engagement with diverse publics, particularly with individuals who hold religious perspectives and faith-informed worldviews. Representatives from the American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS) Center for Public Engagement with Science and Technology and the AAAS Dialogue on Science, Ethics, and Religion (DOSER) program will guide discussion and offer tools and strategies for constructive and inclusive science dialogue.

This opportunity is aimed at Vanderbilt graduate students, postdocs, and other early career researchers, yet scientists of all career levels are welcome. While this workshop will focus on engagement with religious publics, it will be useful for public science engagement in general. Space is limited and participants must register before March 11th.

Wednesday, March 20, 2019
9:00 AM – 12:00 PM
Student Life Center, RM 104
Vanderbilt University

For registration & additional information:
www.aaas.org/programs/dialogue-science-ethics-and-religion/vanderbilt-university

VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY  Graduate School

Russell G. Hamilton
Leadership Development Institute

Sponsored by the AAAS, the Vanderbilt Graduate School Russell G. Hamilton Leadership Development Institute & the Vanderbilt Communication of Science and Technology Program

Being Human: the Nexus of Science and Spirituality

Join us for a keynote and panel discussion that are open to the public during this 2- day campus event

March 19th

Exploring Who We Are: Public Engagement on Human Evolution

Keynote by Dr. Briana Pobiner of the Smithsonian Institution National Museum of Natural History

Respondent: The Rev. C. Nolan Huizenga, Second Presbyterian Church, Nashville

Student Life Center, Ballrooms A&B
4:00 p.m. – 5:30 p.m.
with reception to follow

March 20th

Panel Discussion: Where Science & Spirituality Meet

A multidisciplinary panel of researchers will discuss their experiences and strategies for interfacing with diverse publics.

Student Life Center, Ballrooms
A&B 1:30 p.m. – 3:30 p.m.
with reception to follow