

IDENTITY-BASED CAREER RESOURCES FOR

Native American/ Indigenous Peoples

■ Institutional & Local Organizations

Student Center for Social Justice

Identity: [Vanderbilt] fosters an environment of inclusion and multiculturalism by increasing students' development around intercultural competence and social justice as well as promoting co-curricular programming that celebrates and recognizes the various cultures of the Vanderbilt student body.

Native American Indian Association of Tennessee (NAIA):

a service agency aimed to enhance the quality of life for Native American Indians in Tennessee by improving services in education and decreasing illiteracy, expanding job opportunities and promoting better employment, and increasing knowledge and awareness of Indian culture.

■ National Organizations

Bureau of Indian Education: job listings from the U.S. Department of the Interior's education agency providing services and support at BIE-funded schools.

National Congress of American Indians: educates the general public, and tribal, federal, and state government officials about tribal self-government, treaty rights, and policy issues affecting Indian tribes.

National Indian Education Association: advances comprehensive, culture-based educational opportunities for American Indians, Alaska Natives, and Native Hawaiians.

Native Americans in Higher Education & Mentorship: dedicated to increasing the Native presence in higher education while providing mentorship and resources.

Native Americans in Higher Education: job board to connect college and university employers with American Indian professionals.

Native Americans in Philanthropy: promotes equitable and effective philanthropy in Native communities by supporting stakeholders that work together to share knowledge and resources and build priorities and power in the sector.

Nativehire: a career resource designed for Native American applicants featuring a job board, job search help videos, resources, and workshops.

USA Jobs Native American Resources: provides Indian Preference eligibility guidelines regarding employment for American Indians or Alaskan Natives who are members of one of the federally recognized tribes.