Dear Dean Galloway,

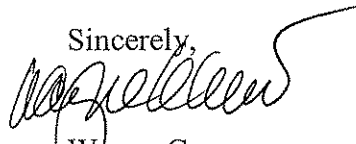

The Construction Industry Institute (CII) is pleased to announce the selection of Vanderbilt University as a 2009 CII Curriculum Partner. The program recognizes higher education programs that are incorporating published CII research findings in their curriculum over the previous calendar year.

The award presentation will be held on Thursday, 30 July at the 2009 CII Annual Conference in Reno, Nevada. The conference theme is "Leadership for the Next Generation".

The Construction Industry Institute, based at The University of Texas at Austin, is a consortium of more than 100 leading owner, engineering-contractor, and supplier firms from both the public and private arenas. These organizations have joined together to enhance the business effectiveness and sustainability of the capital facility life cycle through CII research, related initiatives, and industry alliances. A learning organization with a wealth of knowledge and information, CII is unique in the engineering and construction industry.

We congratulate Vanderbilt University for being named an inaugural Curriculum Partner. Your continued support of the Construction Industry Institute is appreciated.

Sincerely,

Wayne Crew
