What is the VPIL Capstone Project?

As part of the VPIL curriculum, students learn basic quality improvement skills. This year's capstone project highlights the improvement project each team designed for their clinic. Throughout the year, teams assessed needs, presented a proposal and implementation strategy, and identified methods for measuring impact. Special thanks go to our quality improvement coaches: Alice C. Bernet, PMHNP-BC, Ph.D. candidate; Jennifer Green, M.D., M.P.H.; Jacob Hathaway, M.D., M.P.H.; Heather Ridinger, M.D.; and Lisa Marie Wands, Ph.D., R.N.

Henry-Joyce Cancer Clinic (Wed)

Measuring palliative care knowledge and perception in a cancer center patient population: a pilot study

Henry-Joyce Cancer Clinic (Fri)

Is it worth the wait? A retrospective study of wait times at the Vanderbilt-Ingram Cancer Center

Vine Hill Community Clinic

Healthcare providers' perceptions of patient readiness to stop smoking

Primary Care Clinic at the Monroe Carell Jr. Children's Hospital at Vanderbilt (Wed)

Improving the speech therapy referral process in a pediatric primary care clinic

Primary Care Clinic at the Monroe Carell Jr. Children's Hospital at Vanderbilt (Fri)

Improving universal lipid panel screening in children 9-11 years old

Siloam Family Health Center

Promoting self-management to improve outcomes in patients with poorly controlled diabetes: an interprofessional approach

Vanderbilt Center for Integrative Health

The impact of the Vanderbilt Center for Integrative Health on quality of life measures

Matthew Walker Comprehensive Health Center

Intelligent care: Students coaching patients to S.M.A.R.T.er goals

Congestive Heart Failure Clinic

Low health-literacy medication intervention

Many thanks to today's speakers
