Day One

Self-Assessment
The course begins by identifying the ways we communicate in a presentation: Visual, Vocal, and Verbal. We build on individual strengths while beginning to eliminate bad habits.

Connection
We jump right into presentations asking participants to deliver a sample of something they deliver daily or answer a question. Each participant is video recorded, and delivery is analyzed during group playback. Participants begin to build their self-awareness.

Delivery
The videos are reviewed, and advanced presentation skills are introduced focusing on the tried and true actor communication techniques. Guidelines for visual, vocal, and verbal communication are provided. Participants learn how to curb distracting habits including Verbal Viruses.

Structure
Compelling content must have a beginning, middle, and end, and also requires a deeper understanding of compelling engagement. Ovation's case study structure is applied to both the participant's current content and any future presentation.

Rehearsal
Participants experience Ovation's Rehearsal Process to enhance their performance. This three-step process is easily repeatable and quickly applicable to any and all created content.

Storytelling
Stories are a powerful and effective way to connect with your audience. Building on the Rehearsal Process, participants learn how to craft, prepare, and deliver a great story in any presentation.

Day Two

Defining Presence
The course begins by identifying the core competencies and behaviors needed to project a confident and welcoming presence as a leader. Participants will assess their strengths and identify areas of improvement.

Leader Awareness
Self-awareness and Social Awareness are critical to leadership success. Body language profiles are identified and audience analysis (aka “reading your audience”) is introduced. Participants are video recorded and analyzed for improvement opportunities.

Word Choice
We will explore the “must dos” for sharing information during crucial conversations (both positive and challenging) and explore techniques for enhancing empathy. This all starts with strong words choices, both when speaking and via written communication.

Communication Styles
Strong leaders understand the varying styles of communication and how to quickly adapt to each. Participants will get familiar with four archetypes of communicators and learn the best practices for each style.

Creating A Positive Environment
This module pinpoints the major tenets that help to build trust, and rapport. Participants are introduced to some tried-and-true steps to develop and improve these vital communication skills.

Impact Statement
Participants have an opportunity to try out their new skills on their feet by presenting their personal Impact Statement. Peer feedback is given.
