Meet, Greet, & Eat featuring Bob Kaiser

Join us Thursday, April 11, 12:00–1:30, for lunch and discussion with Bob Kaiser, long-time political journalist for the Washington Post. Hear about his experience reporting on some of the most pivotal events in American political history. Lunch will be provided.

Please RSVP to Stephanie Covington <stephanie.a.covington@vanderbilt.edu> by April 8.

When: Thursday, April 11, 12:00–1:30 (drop by anytime in that window)

Where: CMST conference room, 220B Edgehill

Who:

Bob Kaiser
Author and Journalist for the Washington Post

Beginning his career in journalism in the 1960s, Bob Kaiser has worked as a reporter in Washington, London, Saigon, and Moscow. He has covered American politics from many vantage points, including the presidency, congress, and lobbyists. He has also authored eight books, including So Damn Much Money: The Triumph of Lobby and the Corrosion of American Government (2009) and Act of Congress: How America’s Essential Institution Works, and How It Doesn’t (2013).

Sponsored by the Department of Communication Studies and the Vanderbilt Chapter of Lambda Pi Eta