Join us for a two-week experience exploring the nature and needs of academically gifted learners, including those from low income and culturally diverse backgrounds. Each day encompasses meaningful learning experiences, lectures from national experts in gifted education, and opportunities to interact with other education professionals. Participants will discuss identification methods and apply evidence-supported strategies for differentiating curriculum to meet the needs of gifted students.

For additional information concerning dates and topics covered, visit the PTY Website:

Cancellation Policy: A minimum number of participants is needed to hold this event. VU may cancel up to fifteen business days prior to the workshop and will provide a full refund. Participants may cancel up to 10 business days prior to the workshop. All participant cancellations prior to 10 days before the conference are subject to a $50 service fee. A 50% refund will be granted for participant cancellations within 9 days of the conference. Cancellations must be received in writing via fax or email.

Information to Receive Tennessee Employment: For Tennessee residents, qualified participants who successfully complete the two-week session and all commensurate coursework are eligible for the Tennessee employment standard in gifted education. Participants will be awarded a document that indicates the employment standard has been met. Please check with your district's licensure office before registering to be sure they will accept Vanderbilt's Employment Standard contact hours for employment in your district. This workshop does not constitute course credit from Vanderbilt University or an added endorsement in Gifted Education.

Please complete this form for each participant and submit via fax, mail or email.
