Additional Information on Digital Image Downloads

"Web resolution" digital images are suitable for use on social media sites such as Facebook, Instagram, and LinkedIn, but do not have a resolution high enough for quality photo printing. "Full/high resolution" digital images are exact copies of the files captured by our cameras, and have a resolution suitable for printing photographs up to 11x14.

Paper Types

GradImages offers prints in three different paper types. Traditional / matte paper is most commonly used in expert print finishing. It appears to have a slightly textured appearance, and provides professional quality color & detail at an affordable price. Pearlized paper is also referred to as "metallic" paper. It has a bright, brilliant finish that offers extra enhancement of color and detail, and can improve the image's depth and clarity over matte paper. Additionally, laminated prints are also available.

Shipping & Handling

GradImages offers a tiered shipping and handling based on order size. Digital images are delivered electronically, and therefore have no S&H charges.

No Late Fees

While some companies charge a late fee for orders placed after an arbitrary deadline, GradImages does not. If your graduates choose to purchase, they may do so months or even years later without a penalty.
