

We have discovered a number of new sustainability-related events happening on campus within the next week, so I wanted to let everyone know.

Also, there are two Federal Work Study student part-time positions (8-10 hrs per week/flexible hours) and one part-time temporary staff position (20 hrs per week, 6-10pm) available immediately to support Vanderbilt's recycling program. If you are interested or know someone who is, please contact Jennifer Hackett, VU's Recycling Coordinator, at Jennifer.hackett@vanderbilt.edu or E.ARTH (3.2784).

Don't forget to check out www.vanderbilt.edu/SustainVU for new information and events!

Andrea

What: Screening of "The Eleventh Hour" documentary

When: Thursday, January 31 at 7pm

Where: Sarratt Cinema

The Eleventh Hour is a documentary by Leonardo DiCaprio that explores how we impact the earth's ecosystems and what we can do to change our course. The showing will be followed by a discussion led by Kathy Conkwright, Film Studies and Gay Welch, Religious Life.

SEATING IS FREE; NO TICKET REQUIRED.

Sponsored by SPEAR, Vanderbilt Visions, Center for Ethics, Vanderbilt Campus Ministry, Anthropology Department, Earth and Environmental Sciences Department, Film Studies Department, and Vanderbilt Student Government

SUSTAINABILITY AT INTERNATIONAL PAPER

Monday, Feb. 4th, 1pm

Averbuch, Pizza Provided

Brought to you by Net Impact

Learn how the world's largest paper products company earned its place on the list of the World's Most Ethical Companies for 2007.

We'll be hearing alumni, Emily Davis, who manages packaging sustainability for the company.

www.internationalpaper.com

Speaker Biography:

Emily Davis is the Manager of Packaging Sustainability for International Paper Company Forest Resources in Memphis, TN.

In this role, she assists consumer and industrial packaging customers with business product stewardship efforts and policy, from life cycle analysis to forest certification. Previously she assisted with the Sustainable Forestry Initiative TM certification on IP's 6.5 million acres of company owned land.

Davis holds an MBA in environmental management from the Owen Graduate School of Management at Vanderbilt University and is an ASCP certified medical technologist.

What: Screening of "Kilowatt Ours"

When: Monday, February 4th at 7pm

Where: Sarratt Cinema

Kilowatt Ours takes viewers from our light switches to the sources of our energy, examining social and environmental consequences and possible solutions. Alternative technologies are surprisingly accessible and affordable to average Americans. The showing will be followed by discussion led by Professors Florence Faucher-King, European Studies and Brendan Bream, Earth & Environmental Sciences.

SEATING IS FREE; NO TICKET REQUIRED.

What: Presentation by Dr. Matthew Sleeth, Author of "Serve God, Save the Planet"

When: Wednesday, February 6th at 4pm

Where: Benton Chapel

Dr. Sleeth rejected a lucrative medical career and materialistic lifestyle for environmental activism will speak about his transition. The event is sponsored by the Spirituality and Ecology group of the Center for the Study of Religion and Culture.

EVENT IS FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC.