

VANDERBILT COMMENCEMENT

MAY 9, 2025

Alma Mater

*On the city's western border, reared against the sky,
Proudly stands our Alma Mater as the years roll by.
Forward! ever be thy watchword, conquer and prevail.
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater, Vanderbilt, All Hail!*

*Cherished by thy sons and daughters, memories sweet shall throng
'Round our hearts, O Alma Mater, as we sing our song.
Forward! ever be thy watchword, conquer and prevail.
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater, Vanderbilt, All Hail!*

—ROBERT F. VAUGHAN, 1908

The medallion on the cover of this program is the official seal of Vanderbilt University,

THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION

The undergraduate processional begins with a trumpet fanfare as the candidates for degrees march onto the field, school by school. Each group is preceded by a banner bearer and led by the dean and the Founder's Medalist for the school. The candidates enter the field from two points.

PROCESSIONAL I

Entering from the southwest corner of the field is the College of Arts and Science, marching in two columns and led by:

Dean Timothy P. McNamara, followed by candidates for the degree of bachelor of arts. Their banner has a white field.

Entering from the southeast corner are Blair School of Music, the School of Engineering, the Next Steps program, and Peabody College. They are led by:

Dean Melissa Rose, Blair School of Music, followed by candidates for the degrees of bachelor of music and bachelor of musical arts. Their banner has a pink field.

Dean Krishnendu Roy, School of Engineering, followed by candidates for the degrees of bachelor of engineering and bachelor of science. Their banner has an orange field.

Dean Camilla Benbow, Peabody College, followed by participants in the Next Steps program and candidates for the degree of bachelor of science. The Peabody banner has a light blue field.

PROCESSIONAL II

After the candidates are seated, trumpets will sound a second fanfare and the next procession will enter from the southwest, led by:

Vice Provost for Faculty Affairs and Professional Education Tracey George, followed by the professors emeriti and the faculty.

PROCESSIONAL III

After the faculty have entered, a third trumpet fanfare will sound, and the final procession will enter. The order is:

Members of the Board of Trust

Officers of Administration

President of the Alumni Association Board Todd Graham

Members of the Class of 1975

Professor Alissa Hare, chair of the Faculty Senate, carrying the mace

Chair of the Board of Trust Bruce R. Evans

Provost C. Cybele Raver

Chancellor Daniel Diermeier

The graduate and professional degree recipients of the Divinity School, the Graduate School, the Law School, the School of Medicine, the School of Nursing, Owen Graduate School of Management, and Peabody College will celebrate their Commencement in separate ceremonies.

Law School

Dean Chris Guthrie, Law School, is followed by the candidates for the degrees of master of laws and doctor of jurisprudence. Their banner has a purple field.

School of Medicine

Dean Jeffrey R. Balser, School of Medicine, is followed by the candidates for the degrees of doctor of medicine, doctor of audiology, doctor of medical physics, master of education of the deaf, master of science (speech-language pathology), master of science (applied clinical informatics), master of science in clinical investigation, master of science in medical physics, master of genetic counseling, and master of public health. Their banner has a green field.

Graduate School

Dean André Christie-Mizell, Graduate School, is followed by the candidates for the degrees of master of arts, master of science, master of fine arts, master of liberal arts and science, master of engineering, and doctor of philosophy. The banner for the doctor of philosophy has a dark blue field. The banner for the master of engineering has an orange field.

Divinity School

Dean Yolanda Pierce, Divinity School, is followed by the candidates for the degrees of doctor of ministry, master of divinity, master of theological studies, and master of theology. Their banner has a scarlet field.

Owen Graduate School of Management

Dean Thomas J. Steenburgh, Owen Graduate School of Management, is followed by the candidates for the degrees of master of business administration, master of accountancy, master of science in finance, master of marketing, and master of management in health care. Their banner has a light brown field.

Peabody College (Post-Baccalaureate Graduates)

Dean Camilla Benbow, Peabody College, is followed by the candidates for the degrees of doctor of education, master of education, and master of public policy. Their banner has a light blue field.

School of Nursing

Dean Pamela R. Jeffries, School of Nursing, is followed by the candidates for the degrees of doctor of nursing practice, master of nursing, and master of science in nursing. Their banner has an apricot field.

The Symbols and Regalia

The visual symbols of Vanderbilt University communicate our rich history and our vibrant future. The oak laurels are a traditional symbol for education as well as for strength and longevity and were inspired by motifs from the Vanderbilt family coat of arms. The initial gold “V” takes center prominence, signifying what is rare and lasting, its beveled appearance simulating the permanence of stone carving. The rays of the North Star and notches around the edge evoke the nautical compass, a reminder of Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt’s background, but also a symbol of the mission of the university as a community that helps to guide lifelong potential through self-direction. Vanderbilt’s motto in the encircling banner is Crescere aude, Latin for “dare to grow.” It embodies the sentiment expressed in Vanderbilt’s alma mater, “Forward! ever be thy watchword.”

The current chair of the Faculty Senate, or the vice chair if the chair is unavailable, carries the mace, an ancient sign of authority. It is displayed on the front of the podium as the symbol of the university’s authority to confer degrees. Symbolic images that decorate the gilded metal of the mace include VU monograms, embattled shields, oak leaves and acorns, irises and magnolias.

The chancellor’s insignia of office is a silver and gilt collar that displays several emblems of the university. The parallel chains of sterling silver are surmounted by alternating Vanderbilt shields and modified Founder’s Medals, from which hangs a medallion with an impression of the seal of the university. The decagonal silver frame of the medallion symbolizes the ten schools. Trustees of the university wear black gowns distinguished by gold piping and gold velvet bars on the sleeves and the university seal on the chest panel of the gowns.

The design of the academic regalia and the colors worn are significant. Undergraduates—those receiving bachelor’s degrees—wear tassels signifying the degree they have earned: golden yellow for science, pink for music, and orange for engineering. By tradition, the bachelor of arts degree tassels are black. The distinguishing mark of the gown is the sleeve: bachelor—a long, pointed sleeve; master—an oblong sleeve open at the wrist; doctor—bell-shaped sleeve with three velvet bars. Vanderbilt candidates for the doctor of philosophy wear eight-sided velvet tams with gold tassels and a custom gown with antique gold front and back panels and an embroidered “V” on the front. Candidates for a doctoral degree other than the doctor of philosophy wear black gowns and six-sided tams.

The velvet edging of the doctoral hoods signifies whether the degree is J.D., M.D., Ed.D., D.N.P., D.Min., or Ph.D.—purple for law, green for medicine, light blue for education, apricot for nursing, scarlet for ministry, and dark blue for the doctor of philosophy, which may be earned in a number of disciplines.

Masters’ hoods are edged with white for arts, brown for fine arts, gold for science, purple for law, salmon pink for public health, peacock blue for public policy, scarlet for theology, light blue for education, orange for engineering, apricot for nursing, and light brown for business. All hoods are lined with silk in colors signifying the institution granting the degree. Vanderbilt hoods are lined in gold and bear a black chevron.

The Banner Bearers

Each banner, with a field in the appropriate academic color, is decorated with the Vanderbilt logo. In recognition of Peabody’s history, a Peabody Centennial Medal in a round walnut frame is mounted above the banner. Banner bearers are:

Rincon Jagarlamudi for the College of Arts and Science

Han Ding for Blair School of Music

Ryan Allen Harris for the Divinity School

Abihith Kothapalli for the School of Engineering
(undergraduate)

Logan Alexander Northcutt for the Graduate School

Blake Maddox Morain for the Law School

Dayne Gordon Poulton for the School of Nursing

Yanelis Alicia Diaz Greenberg for the School of Medicine

Max Edward Hackenbrack for Owen Graduate School of Management

Chenyu He for Peabody College of Education and Human Development (undergraduate)

The Faculty Marshals

Faculty members serve as marshals who manage the academic procession. The university marshal plans the procession and the seating, and instructs the faculty and student marshals. Faculty marshals are identified by gold cords draped over their left shoulders. The marshals are:

University Marshal Joshua McGuire, Principal Senior Lecturer in Musicianship

Ghina Absi, Assistant Professor of the Practice of Civil and Environmental Engineering

Mariam Adam, Assistant Professor of Clarinet

Nicole E. Allen, Professor and Chair of the Department of Human and Organizational Development

THE Nichols- Chancellor's MEDAL

The Nichols-Chancellor's Medal is one of the university's highest honors and is awarded to individuals who define the 21st century and exemplify the best qualities of the human spirit. It was established by Vanderbilt Law School graduate Edward C. Nichols, Jr., and his wife, Janice, in memory of Edward Carmack Nichols and Lucile Hamby Nichols.

The 2025 Nichols-Chancellor's Medal is presented to humanitarian, actor, and musician Gary Sinise. Sinise grew up in a family of veterans, and his role as Lt. Dan Taylor in the Academy Award-winning film Forrest Gump strengthened his connection with the military community. Sinise's portrayal of a Vietnam veteran who lost his legs in combat created an enduring relationship with veterans and service members alike, especially wounded service members. It was after 9/11 that Sinise's commitment became even stronger, and he was propelled to a life of service and advocacy for America's veterans and defenders. He formed the Lt. Dan Band in 2003 to perform for our troops at home and overseas through charities and nonprofits such as the United Service Organizations. In 2011 he founded the Gary Sinise Foundation, to expand upon his efforts. Since its founding, the Gary Sinise Foundation has served thousands of veterans, defenders, first responders, and families of our fallen heroes through unique programming designed to uplift, inspire, and build communities.

Sinise received the Presidential Citizens Medal, among many other service and humanitarian awards. For his accomplishments in film, television, and theater, he won an Emmy, a Golden Globe, and a Tony, was nominated for an Academy Award, and in 2017 received a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

THE FOUNDER'S MEDAL RECIPIENTS

Nikki Takahashi Weitzenhoffer, from Norman, Oklahoma, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the College of Arts and Science. She is graduating with a bachelor of arts.

Nikki majored in history of art, minored in history, and earned highest honors for her honors thesis. The project focused on Ukiyo-e, a Japanese art form during the 17th through 19th centuries depicting scenes from everyday life on woodblock prints and paintings. She learned how historical research can illuminate broader cultural questions, which inspired her to pursue a master's at Vanderbilt in history of art. Her leadership roles—including co-president of the History of Art Society and co-assistant director of the Research on Conflict and Collective Action Lab—strengthened her commitment to use research as a tool for advocacy. She also was an undergraduate research assistant for the lab, a senior staff editor for Vanderbilt Historical Review, group leader for Volunteers for Health, and a Buchanan Library Fellow. Nikki is grateful for the transformative guidance of Helmut Smith in history and Susan Dine in history of art and architecture, professors who shaped her academic journey, future aspirations, and growth. After earning her master's, Nikki plans to go to law school and develop expertise in art and cultural heritage restitution law.

Charles Thomas Schmitt, from Maitland, Florida, is this year's Founder's Medalist for Blair School of Music. He is graduating with a bachelor of music.

Charlie is the third of three children in his family to earn a Vanderbilt degree. He majored in trumpet performance with a concentration in jazz studies, was inducted into the Pi Kappa Lambda Music Honor Society in 2024 and received Blair's Spirit of Billy Adair Award for service and leadership. An academic highlight was doing research with the Yusef A. Lateef Collection as a Buchanan Library Fellow. As a member of Blair's jazz ensembles, he has played at some of Nashville's foremost music venues, and he traveled to Cuba, Colombia and the Dominican Republic with the Vanderbilt Wind Symphony. He was a semifinalist in the National Trumpet Competition's solo jazz division and was recognized by Downbeat magazine for his Blair performances. Charlie thanks God and the help of his professors, especially Jose Sibaja and Jeff Coffin, for showing him that striving to become a better person is an essential part of being a lifelong musician. After graduation, Charlie will attend the University of Miami's Frost School of Music to pursue a master of music in jazz instrumental performance.

Grace Ann Jones, from Knoxville, Tennessee, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the School of Engineering. She is graduating with a bachelor of science.

Grace was the first in her family to attend a university in the United States, an Ingram Scholar, and a finalist for Class of 2025 Outstanding Senior in recognition of her leadership, service, and passion. Her inspiration to major in engineering was the Nanoscale Innovation and Making course at the Wond'ry, where her team worked on a prototype sensor to monitor food expiration to help reduce food waste. She also majored in chemistry and math, with minors in scientific computing and business. During her internship with SkyNano, she worked to develop ways to convert atmospheric CO₂ into valuable carbon nanotubes. She was co-president of Next Steps Ambassadors, founded the Vanderbilt Gymnastics Club, was president of Vanderbilt's American Chemical Society chapter, and supported programs for at-risk youth as a volunteer at Preston Taylor Ministries in Nashville. Grace studied abroad in Cameroon, and she did community development work in Bolivia for her Ingram summer project, which she continued through a Nichols Humanitarian Fund award the next year. Looking to the future, Grace will pursue a fellowship exploring technological innovation startups for social impact.

Samuel Elliott Lu, from Little Rock, Arkansas, is this year's Founder's Medalist for Peabody College. He is graduating with a bachelor of science.

Samuel continues the legacy of teachers in his family, including two great-grandparents, both grandmothers and an aunt. They include teachers who taught in their native Taiwan and who taught at Little Rock Central High School during the time of the Little Rock Nine, students who broke the color barrier in 1957. Vanderbilt professors describe Samuel as earnest, inquisitive, hardworking, open-minded and deeply curious about content and pedagogy. He excelled in his courses and completed a triple major in early childhood and elementary education, human and organizational development, and climate studies. During his internship at Our House Shelter in Central Arkansas, which serves families and youth experiencing homelessness, he worked alongside a talented classroom teacher to support students' summer learning and foster a love for literature. He also founded Camp P.L.A.Y., a play-based education program supported by the Nichols Humanitarian Fund. True to his humble and generous spirit, he credits his cohort with having the greatest influence on his experiences at Peabody. After graduation, Samuel will be an elementary school teacher in Raleigh, North Carolina.

THE FOUNDER'S MEDAL RECIPIENTS

Thornton Taylor Muncher, from Sumiton, Alabama, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the Divinity School. He is graduating with a master of divinity.

Thornton earned a bachelor's degree in literature, religion, and myth from Birmingham-Southern College and at Vanderbilt was awarded a Carpenter Scholarship and a Blakemore-West End UMC Scholarship. His academic interests include Jewish studies, Mediterranean and Near Eastern studies, and global Christianities and interreligious encounter. He was a teaching assistant in the Department of Classical and Mediterranean Studies, served on the Divinity School Honor Council, and presented at meetings of the Society of Biblical Literature, the American Academy of Religion–Southeast Region, and Belmont University. Participating in the Fellowships at Auschwitz for the Study of Professional Ethics program had a profound impact on him, as he and other graduate students and future leaders explored ethical responsibilities in their own fields by analyzing the decisions and actions of professionals during the Holocaust. After graduation, Thornton will be a program coordinator in the Jack, Joseph and Morton Mandel Center for Advanced Holocaust Studies at the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum. He also is pursuing ordination in the United Methodist Church.

Robert Davis Rickard, from Austin, Texas, is this year's Founder's Medalist for Owen Graduate School of Management. He is graduating with a master of business administration.

Robert earned a bachelor of business administration with a major in finance at Texas Tech University, where he also played on scholarship for the golf team. At Vanderbilt, his MBA concentrations were finance, operations and analytics, and strategy. He was honored as a Dean's Scholar, a Bruce D. Henderson Scholar, and an E. Bronson Ingram Scholar. Two influential courses for him were Corporate Financial Policy with Professor Josh White and Corporate Strategy with Professor Brian McCann, which reinforced his interest in consulting and in tackling complex, high-impact business challenges. As vice president of the Owen Strategy and Consulting Club, a peer coach, and a case coach, he helped first-year MBA students navigate the consulting recruiting process, and he was also a teaching assistant for managerial finance and operations management. Robert is grateful to his parents, Rob and Polly Rickard, for their support and to the Owen community for making his MBA experience professionally valuable and personally fulfilling. After graduation, he will return to McKinsey & Company in the St. Louis office.

Rachel Michelle Dodge, from Greenville, South Carolina, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the Law School. She is graduating with a doctor of jurisprudence.

Rachel will be the first attorney in her family—a personal milestone and a testament to her strong family foundation. Before law school, she earned a bachelor of arts from Erskine College. At Vanderbilt, she won the Robert F. Jackson Memorial Prize and scholastic excellence awards for highest grade in Torts, Property, Constitutional Law I, Constitutional Law II, American Legal History, Corporations and Business Entities, Environmental Law, and Professional Responsibility. Vanderbilt Law Review published her student note, "Dismantling a Marketplace for Private Violence: Reclaiming the Modern Weapons of War to Forestall Filibusters of the Web." She won the Candidate's Award from Vanderbilt Law Review for her position as a notes editor. She was chair of service for Law Students for Life and philanthropy coordinator for Women's Law Student Association. Rachel is grateful to her parents for their support and to the law faculty who inspired her to not only pursue excellence but also invest in others and take joy in their successes. After graduation, she will join Bradley Arant Boult Cummings as an associate. In 2027 she begins clerking for Chief Judge William H. Pryor Jr. on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 11th Circuit.

Melissa Brandy Meisels, from Portland, Oregon, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the Graduate School. She is graduating with a doctor of philosophy in political science.

Melissa earned a bachelor of arts at UCLA and a master of arts at Vanderbilt in 2022 before completing her doctorate. She is a scholar of congressional elections and money in politics, with novel insights made possible by her extensive and original data collection. She is already achieving impact in her field through peer-reviewed publications in top journals, invited talks at the world's best universities, and participation in conferences. At Vanderbilt she was a Russell G. Hamilton Scholar, received the Provost Pathbreaking Discovery Award, and excelled as a teacher. She was the teaching assistant for the first class offered in the new data science minor, which had more than 100 students from every major and discipline across the university, with significant variation in prior knowledge and skills. The class would not have been as successful without her ability to engage students at their level. Melissa is now at Yale University as a postdoctoral associate and in July will join Yale's Department of Political Science as an assistant professor.

THE FOUNDER'S MEDAL RECIPIENTS

Vicky Nicolas, from Orlando, Florida, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the School of Nursing. She is graduating with a master of science in nursing.

Vicky's studies have prepared her to be an adult-gerontology primary care nurse practitioner. She was inspired by an aunt who became her adoptive mother. Aunt Adeline was a single parent who became a certified nursing assistant despite poverty and other hardships and made a difference for her patients. Vicky has embraced her aunt's belief that serving others makes life fulfilling. Before coming to Vanderbilt, Vicky earned a bachelor of arts at the University of Miami and a master of science at Mississippi College. At Vanderbilt, she received the DAISY Award recognizing extraordinary nurses and nursing students and was selected for a federal Health Resources and Services Administration-funded grant that provided nurse practitioner clinical experience in rural and underserved health clinics in Kentucky. She also was part of a team providing vaccinations and health screening assessments with the Vanderbilt Mobile Vaccine Clinic and began fostering relationships with communities she plans to serve. Vicky now is exploring postgraduate training programs and opportunities to provide primary care with her trademark qualities of dedication, compassion, and commitment to patient well-being.

Carter Lakin Lovvorn, from Nashville, Tennessee, is this year's Founder's Medalist for the School of Medicine. He is graduating with a doctor of medicine.

When Carter began his studies at Vanderbilt School of Medicine, he was already very familiar with and fond of Vanderbilt, because he is the son of a Vanderbilt professor of pediatric surgery. Carter chose pediatrics in part because of his experiences working with young people. He has always enjoyed being a mentor—captaining sports teams in high school, tutoring student-athletes at Duke University, where he earned a bachelor of arts, or caring for young patients during medical school. At the Shade Tree Clinic, run by Vanderbilt medical students, Carter has helped break down language barriers in health care as a certified medical interpreter and a care coordinator. He also worked on research with Dr. Natasha Halasa to explore social barriers to pediatric vaccination in Nashville. His academic honors include serving as co-president of the Gold Humanism Honor Society and earning a certificate in health equity. After graduation, Carter will begin a residency in pediatrics at Vanderbilt University Medical Center, and he expects mentoring, teaching, public and community health, and working with Spanish-speaking patients to be a vital part of his future.
